Christine Gitt named Adams Co. Jr. Miss

LITTLESTOWN - Christine Gitt, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gitt, on a 200 acre farm near Littlestown, was named Adams County Junior Miss last Saturday night during the annual pageant. She is a junior at Littlestown High School.

As the new Junior Miss, Christine received a $500 scholarship along with a crown and banner. She also received bowls for youth fitness and poise and personal appearance.

As the new reigning Junior Miss, the young lady will represent Adams County in the State Junior Miss Pageant which will be held in Reading in the Fall.

Her talent in the pageant consisted of a solo, "People", from the Broadway musical "Funny Girl".

Christine is an active member of the Adams County 4-H Dairy Club and has won numerous awards in showing. She was named the 1978 Outstanding Junior Girl by the Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Association. She helps her parents and two older brothers on their farm.

She is also active in school activities. Christine is an honor student, a varsity cheerleader, a member of swing choir, and active in the girls' track team.

She came to the Junior

Miss Pageant on crutches due to a sprained ankle she suffered when she tripped over a golf ball during track practice. However, by the night of the pageant, she had made a complete recovery.

The pageant is sponsored annually by the Littlestown Lions Club. The scholarships and other awards were provided by several county banks and area clubs and business concerns.
