Price support deadline set for May 31

WASHINGTON — The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, reminds farmers that May 31 is the last day to apply for price support loans on 1977-crop corn and sorghum. Farmers still have a little time left to apply for a loan and become eligible to participate in the grain reserve program. May 31 is also the final date to obtain a loan on 1977-crop wheat, barley, and oats to be placed in the reserve.

On May 1 farmers were allowed to place 1977 corn and sorghum in the grain reserve before the loans on these crops matured.

The farmer-held reserve and the set-aside programs are designed to increase the prices farmers receive for their grain. The grain reserve takes grain off the market for a period of up to three years, or until market prices reach stated levels.

Nationally, 374.3 million bushels of wheat and 55.5 million bushels of feed grain had entered the grain reserve as of May 2, and 66,490 farms were enrolled in the set-aside program as of April 27.

Farmers who wish to participate in the CCC loan program, grain reserve and/or the set-aside program should contact the local ASCS office.
