

Chester County Holstein Club holds field day with 200 in attendance

Karl Brown, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Brown, Oxford R1, wasted no time befriending the calf he won during the Chester County Holstein Club's field day.

COATESVILLE - William H Pettit of Huff 'N Puff Farm, Julustown, N.J. was the main speaker at the Chester County Holstein Club's annual field day, held Tuesday evening at the Donald Hostetter farm, near here.

Pettit discussed his family's recent milking herd dispersal, emphasizing promotion and advertising as essentials for a successful sale, and noted that testing and classification records strengthen sales.

Clarence Stauffer, HFAA program director, discussed several programs available through the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Junior members met with Linda Kauffman of Elizabethtown. The junior awards program was her main topic.

Three classes of cattle were judged by participants with Pettit as official judge. Top judge of the evening was Steve Snyder with 146 out of 150 points. He chose a unit of Hilltop Apollo Ivanhoe semen as his prize.

In the men's division Lester Eby, Earl Stauffer, and Merle King tied for first place, followed by Richard Breckbill and Ed Kulp.

Placings in the women's division were 1 Barb Stauffer, 2. Helen Zimmerman, 3. Susanna Umble, 4. Anna Stoltzfus, and 5. Sandy Lusby.

Youth division placings were 1. Snyder, 2. Neal King, 3. Marilyn Stoltzfus, 4.

Nancy Yarnall, and 5. Tom Snyder

Judging contest prizes included semen donated by Atlantic Breeders, ABS, Carnation Genetics, Neba, Curtiss, and Donald Hostetter. Other prizes were donated by Harvestore, Brown & Rea, and Lloyd E. Kreider.

The registered heifer calf, Pep-L-Lea Job Bess, a daughter of Hillhaven Standout Job, was won by Karl Brown. The calf was donated by Robert E. and Jane C. Pepple.

Refreshments were enjoyed by about two hundred people in attendance.
