YORK — York County has a new 4-H king and queen, crowned in ceremonies that climaxed the annual Achievement Day, held last Sunday afternoon at the 4-H Center near Bair.

Jonathan Miller, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller, Seven Valleys R1, was selected as the king; and Lisa Dobrosky, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dobrosky, Glen Rock R2 will reign as queen. The attractive and knowledgeable pair will serve as spokesmen for the county's 4-H program, doing public relations work through radio, television and personal appearances.

A 4-H member for eight years, Jon represented the Jefferson Community Club, where he serves as the vice-president. His busy schedule includes carrying projects in dairy, sheep, vet science, tractor, and he won the York Fair's grand champion tractor driver award. A junior at the York Area Vocational Tech School, Jon is majoring in machine shop and is a varsity member of the wrestling team.

Lisa, also 15, is a seven-year member of 4-H and especially active in the lamb club, which she serves as president. She's treasurer of county council and has carried ceramics, leathercraft, quilling and health projects through the Glen Rock club. A demonstration on smoking, given in 1977 competition, won Lisa the state gold medal award.

At Susquehannock High School, where Lisa is a sophomore studying college preparatory courses, she has served on the student council for five years and is assistant editor of the yearbook. In November, she'll travel to Kansas City to take part in the national 4-H meats judging contest, and was named high individual at the state level.

First runner-up for the title of king was Steve Trostle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Trostle, Red Lion R2.

Named the second runner-up was Joey Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Welsh, East Berlin R1.

Susan Detter, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Detter Dover, took the first runner-up spot in the queen competition; and Ann Miller,
