

Holiday entertaining made easy

UNIVERSITY PARK - Simplicity and informality of today's living makes entertaining requirements less demanding than when everyone felt it was necessary to conform to one standard. Elaborate refreshments are no longer essential for successful entertaining.

Entertaining or bread breaking with friends should be fun for the hostess and her guests. To enjoy entertaining requires some entertaining know-how. This begins with the guest list and ends when the host and hostess have said good-bye to their last guest.

Available from The Pennsylvania State University, "Guides to Entertaining" is a course designed to help make entertaining simple and fun. Included in the course are menus and recipes for company breakfasts, dinners, buffets, smorgasbords, coffee hours, teas, and special family occasions. The course also suggests table decorations and games for school age parties.

To get this complete home study course, send your name and address with $5.50 to ENTERTAINING, Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802. Make check or money order payable to Penn State. All material will be mailed promptly. You can study at your convenience and then file the course for easy reference.
