Use the flexibility of wood silos to improve your feeding system.

Whether you ensile one crop or several, the natural choice is wood silos. Wood lasts longer. Resists acids. Minimizes spoilage. Insulates to keep heat in, cold out. It's real easy to unload a Unadilla in the winter! Now wood makes more sense than ever. You can store any kind of feed—regular corn silage, high-moisture corn, haylage—often at a cost far less than other type silos.

Let the flexibility of a wood silo system improve your feeding system. Write or give us a call. Unadilla Silo Company, Inc., Dept. LA1, Unadilla, N.Y. 13849. Phone 607/369-9341.
