HARRISBURG — Applicants who plan to take the 1979 Pennsylvania taxidermy examination should file applications with district game protectors prior to May 25.

Applications are available from district game protectors and from the six field division offices of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The 43rd annual taxidermy examination will be given at the Game Commission's Southcentral Field Division Office at Huntingdon on June 19, 20 and 21.

The examination, which is in two parts, requires half a day to complete.

Completed applications should be filed with the district game protector in the area where the applicant resides. A $25 fee must accompany the application to help cover the costs of conducting the examination.

There is an additional annual fee of $25 for those who successfully pass the examination and wish to be licensed.

Each applicant must present to the board at the time of the examination five specimens which have been prepared within the past three years. An affidavit that the applicant has personally prepared the specimens must also be presented to the Taxidermy Board.

Specimens to be presented must include one deer head, one small mammal, one upland game bird, one species of waterfowl, and one fish or reptile.

The written part of the taxidermy examination will be on taxidermy methods and procedures.

Currently, there are 296 taxidermists licensed in Pennsylvania.
