THE PICNIC'S OLE STANDBY

Warm weather and picnics seem to go together. And, what is one of the first items to take along? Many of us think of potato salad. Although some people enjoy potato salad throughout the year, most of us enjoy it as a warm weather dish.

Potato salad lovers are in luck! According to USDA's marketing specialists, potatoes will be in heavy supply throughout May. So, now's the time to take advantage of the supply and try the following potato salad recipes for your picnics or just stay-at-home meals. Wherever you serve it, however, it is important to remember to keep prepared potato salad refrigerated, or in an ice chest before serving to keep it from spoiling due to bacterial build-up.

PICNIC POTATO SALAD

8 medium potatoes, cooked in skins
1/2 cup Italian style dressing
1 cup diced celery
6 green onions, with tops, sliced
1 cucumber, pared and diced

3 hard cooked eggs, diced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Salt, paprika, celery salt
Mayonnaise and sour cream
When potatoes are cool enough to handle, remove the skins, dice, and pour the dressing over them. Chill. Add other ingredients, using equal parts of mayonnaise and sour cream, lasting for salt. Chill well. Serves eight.

POTATO SALAD SPECIAL

3 cups diced cooked potatoes
1-1/2 cups sliced raw cauliflower
1 cup diced celery
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup chopped onion
6 slices crisp bacon, crumbled
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon bacon fat
2 teaspoons caraway seed (optional)
Combine potatoes, cauliflower, celery, eggs, onion and bacon. Mix mayonnaise, bacon fat and caraway seed. Pour over salad, toss lightly and salt to taste. Chill. Serves five to six.

ANTIQUES POPULAR FURNITURE FOR YOUNG AND OLD

There's no generation gap when it comes to antiques. You'll find young and old alike shopping in antique stores, at flea markets and special shows looking for objects that add personality and individuality to a room.

The increased interest in antiques is based on several factors. People travel more and have a chance to see more furniture and to learn about craftsmanship and style.

There's also a growing desire for individuality and status. Good antiques are always acceptable and represent proven standards of taste. They can become the center or focal point of a room, or even set the whole mood of a house.

Age enhances the beauty and value of antiques. That makes these pieces an investment that will continue to increase in value with the years.

Until recent times, the idea of frequent change in house decoration and furnishings was rare. Homes were furnished and

York 4-H Council meets

YORK — The May meeting of the York County 4-H Council was held recently at the 4-H Center near Bair. It was reported that the demonstration evening will be held on May 9th at the Center, beginning at 7 p.m. Members will be presenting their project-related demonstrations and speeches in the hope of going to regional and state competition.

The 4-H Clubs of York County will be conducting a petting zoo at the York Hospital Fete on May 18 and 19.

A family movie night is being planned for June 8. Included in the one dollar donation is a dish of ice cream with strawberries and popcorn.

The next meeting will be held on June 6 at the Center. The activities for the evening include new games and a box social.

decorated at the time of building with the best and most solid furniture available. The owner usually bought the furniture to last his lifetime and perhaps those of his children.

Good quality, well-made furniture is almost indestructible. Even if the pieces passed from state room to attic, they remain repairable, if not intact. There is always a market for fine furniture and many pieces are as serviceable and beautiful as when they were made.

Collecting antiques can be rewarding. You can choose fun, serious or historical items. It all depends on your taste.
