Swans receives Longwood fellowship

NEWARK, Del. - Four new two-year fellowships have been announced in the Longwood Program in Ornamental Horticulture at the University of Delaware, according to program coordinator Dr. Richard Lighty. One of the recipients was Bonnie Swan, a horticulture graduate of the University of Delaware. A native of Kennett Square, Pa., she is currently working as a horticulture information aide at Longwood Gardens. She is also working in a commercial garden center. Bonnie plans a career in botanic garden management.

The program, which is financed by a grant from Longwood Gardens, Inc., makes use of staff and facilities of the College of Agriculture Sciences at the University and those of Longwood Gardens to give practical horticultural experience and management skills to outstanding students from all over the nation.

This year's fellowships were also awarded to: Pamela H. Goff, Weston, Conn.; Peggy C. Newcomb, Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Marguerite E. Waller of Fort Collins, Colo.
