

Serving The Central and Southeastern Pennsylvania Areas - Also Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware

VOL. 24 No. 36

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, July 7, 1979

$7.00 Per Year

'What's on your mind, Mr. Farmer?' survey:

By DIETER KRIEG

LITITZ — Despite the economic situations of the times, farmers in this area are maintaining a basically confident attitude. That doesn't mean all is well, however. This story is about some of the thoughts farmers have about the economy, inflation, fuel supplies, and related matters.

A farmer from near Manheim, Lancaster County, says he hears a lot of gloomy reports, but he personally likes to look at the bright side. "Some good will come out of it," he said in a telephone interview with special reference to the energy crisis. In partnership with his father on a dairy and hog farm, the Lancaster Countian believes other energy sources will be developed. "I'm not sure about the fuel shortage, though, as to whether or not there really is one. But there will be one sometime" he continued. "If we get the energy situation turned around, then things will 'change for the better," he said confidently.

A man from near Dover, Delaware sees the lack of a fear of God as the basic problem in America today. "That's what makes us selfish," he said. "The picture definitely is not rosy as I see it, and it won't get better as long as we, the people, remain the way we are. We scream at taxes and the government's debt. and yet we demand more. What's this country made of?" has asked.

In the same breath he answered his own question: "Me. Us. Nobody wants to back off. The unions are the worst thing that ever happened. They promote power and greed."

On the subject of energy, the Delaware man said it's (Turn to Page 40)

Midwest entries, named champions at Angus show

YORK — Pennsylvania entries fared well at the Seventh Eastern Regional Junior Angus Heifer Show. The show, therwise known as the Keystone Klassic, was held last Saturday at the York Fairgrounds.

The Keystone state's only blue ribbon winner was onique Sweigard, Halifax, who showed MVAF Princess 14 to the top spot in her class. The heifer was calved on ebruary 24, 1978, competing in Class 7 in the bred and wned division.

Grand champion heifer at the show was Black Lady 883 f HAR, shown by David Retherford, Indianapolis, Inlana. The reserve grand champion was Benlock Plackcap 108K, shown by Leroy E. Billman, Ostrander, Summittrest Irene K388, shown by Jeffrey S. Johnson, mmitville, Ohio, was the champion heifer calf, with homas Jay Cronk. New Castle, Indiana, showing Heritage Energetta 8H67 to the reserve champion heifer calf spot.

Intermediate heifer champion was Heritage Blackbird 8H15, also shown by Thomas Cronk. Reserve champion in

In this issue

98

100

Farm Calendar Editorial Life on the farm Farmers wanted for tailgate markets Grain field day Homestead Notes Jr. Cooking Edition

Home on the Range Kendy's Kollumn Ida's Notebook Energy from manure 54 Tractor hydraulics 56 Cumberland DHIA

Chester DHIA

104 111

112 113 118 123

130

that division was Black Oak Eline 579K, shown by LeAnn King, Mount Perry, Ohio.

The champion and reserve champion yearling heifers were named to the grand and reserve grand chammonship in the owned division of the show.

In the owned and bred division of the show, champion heifer was Sir WMS Black Gold, shown by Sonya L. Boggs, Hillsdale, N.Y. Reserve champion honors went to Miss Michigan Herb Lou 078, shown by Sharon Diuble, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Pennsylvania Juniors that placed in the show included the following:

In the bred and owned division, in Class 4, Dale Rains, Mercer placed second; and Kenneth Walker, West Chester, took fourth place.

(Turn to Page 46)