

The poultry judge at the Lebanon Fair this year was Dick Holmes, a licensed judge and member of the American Poultry Association. An actor and drama teacher by profession, he works with chickens as a hobby. A resident of Washington, D.C. he complimented the Lebanon Fair poultry exhibit as being one of "very high quality - I'm very pleased with the specimens here," he said.

Behney and Miller dominate poultry show

LEBANON — Behney and Miller once again won most of the top honors in the Lebanon County Fair's poultry display. Judge Richard Holmes of Washington D.C. named their birds champions on several occasions. The well-known poultry exhibitors had the best large fowl, a light Brahma hen; the reserve champion large fowl, a White Rock hen; and the three best birds, buff Brahma hens.

The best display was entered by John Sattazahn.

In the 4-H contest, Heather Hernley of Fredericksburg had the best pen of three pullets. Sharon Strickler's trio placed second. She is from Lebanon.

The Lebanon Fair's poultry exhibit annually ranks as one of the bigger and higher quality shows in the area. Judge Holmes, who claims chickens as his hobby, was impressed with the quality that was on display. He is an accredited judge of the American Poultry Association.

It's Pork Cookout Time

HARRISBURG - With the late summer cookout season in full swing, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is offering a free booklet containing 22 prize winning pork cookout recipes.

"It's Pork Cookout Time," featuring 22 state Cookout King's winning recipes is now available upon request, according to State Agriculture Secretary Penrose Hallowell. He noted that the versatility of pork is amply demonstrated in the variety of recipes which include loin chops, ribs, roasts, ham, steaks and sausage. The booklet, which is published by the National Pork Producers Council, also gives tips on cooking and selection of pork.

The prize winning recipe featured in the booklet is "Italian Porketta," prepared by 1978 Pennsylvania Pork Cookout King, Ronald E. Yockey of Moscow in Lackawanna County.

ITALIAN PORKETTA
3 boneless pork loin roasts, 2 to 2½ pounds each*
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon pepper
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dill seed
¼ teaspoon onion powder
¼ teaspoon garlic powder

In a large dish combine all ingredients except pork. Coat each pork roast with seasoning mixture, using all the seasonings. Place the three pork roasts together to form a round, uniform roast. Tie securely with string. Insert rotisserie rod lengthwise through the center of roast; balance roast; secure with rotisserie prongs. Insert meat thermometer at an angle so tip is in center of roast but not touching rod. Place on rotisserie. Cook over low heat until meat thermometer registers 170° F. (allow 25 to 30 minutes per pound). Remove roast from grill. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes before carving. Makes 18 to 20 servings.

* Pork tenderloin or boneless shoulder roast may be used.

To receive this booklet, "It's Pork Cookout Time," send a self-addressed envelope to PORK COOKOUT TIME, Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, 2301 N. Cameron Street, Harrisburg, PA 17120 or call (717) 787-4210.
