

Junior Cooking Edition

It's Halloween, that one night of the year when pumpkins everywhere light up as jack-o-lanterns, when ghosts and black cats peek around corners looking for witches on flying broomsticks, and masked little people go crunching through dried autumn leaves from house to house.

If there's a bit of a letdown for those who are too old for trick or treating, why not invite some friends or family members to a Halloween party.

In this week's Junior Cooking Edition we have included ideas for the party menu and seasonal recipes sent to us by our young readers.

If you have a favorite recipe share it with the Junior Cooking Edition. Send your favorite recipes to Lancaster Farming, Box 366, Litz, Pa. 17543. Be sure to include your name, age, address and a complete list of ingredients and directions.

CHEESY PUMPKIN SANDWICHES

1 cup coleslaw
 ½ cup finely chopped apple
 ½ cup chopped peanuts
 6-12 slices whole wheat bread
 butter
 lettuce
 6 slices bologna
 6 slices cheddar cheese

Combine coleslaw, apple and peanuts. Butter bread. Top 6 slices of buttered bread with lettuce, 1 slice of bologna, about ¼ cup coleslaw mixture and a cheese pumpkin (see below). If desired, sandwich may be topped with a second slice of bread.

Cheese Pumpkin

Cut a cardboard pattern for a pumpkin. Place on a slice of cheese and trace around it with a sharp knife to cut out a cheese pumpkin. Make small slits in cheese to resemble sides of a pumpkin; use a small green pepper strip for the stem.

THERE ARE TWO WOOD STOVES IN THIS PICTURE

The one you see is an open stove, with all the beauty of the open fireplace. The one you don't see is an air-tight stove that heats up to 9,000 cu. ft. for 10 hours when you close cast iron doors.

The Upland is designed to be used either free standing or vented into an existing fireplace. Either way you get two stoves in one.
