

Fulton Grange plans dinner, opposes milk deregulation

OAKRYN — Fulton 11, 8 p.m. at the Grange Hall Grange No. 66 held their in Oakryn.
 regular meeting February Master Thomas C.

Galbreath presided at the business session when plans were made to hold the annual roast turkey supper Saturday, April 19. The Women's Activities committee, Mrs. Charles Wallace chairwoman, will be in charge.

Fulton Grange went on record opposing the proposed deregulation of reconstituted milk from Order pricing which would significantly lower the income of dairy farmers and lower the quality of our dairy products.

It was announced that the spring meeting of Lancaster County Pomona Grange No. 71 will be held April 26, 8 p.m. at White Horse Fire Hall as guests of Salisbury Grange. Their annual picnic will be held August 23 at Huffnagle Park, Quarryville, with Colerain Grange hosting.

The Youth committee chairman, Mrs. Clifford Holloway III, reported 18 people bowled February 3rd, and invited the Grange members to attend their code-reading and game party to be held Saturday, Feb. 22nd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Galbreath, Peach Bottom R1.

The tour committee chairman, Clifford Holloway Jr., announced possible tours considered for 1980 and will probably plan a three-day trip to the New England states and possibly a one-day tour.

It was announced that the Lancaster County Soil

Conservation dinner meeting will be held March 20. Tickets may be obtained from J. Everett Kreider.

The Young Marrieds committee chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Zug, were in charge of the program. Mrs. Zug gave an interesting talk on "How To Turn Your Trash To Cash" and exhibited several articles obtained through commercial promotions.

The Zugs conducted the Family Feud game with fifteen people participating.

Mrs. William Taylor, a certified emergency medical technician from the Wakefield Ambulance Association, will present the program at the next meeting, February 25. She will show films on Cardiac Pulmonary Resuscitation and the Heinhich Maneuver to relieve choking victims and will demonstrate these techniques.

Produce firm's license suspended

BROOKLYN, N.Y. — The produce trading license of M & L Fruiterers, Inc., of Brooklyn, N.Y., was suspended by the U.S. Department of Agriculture after the firm failed to pay a reparation award of $20,305.

The department's Agricultural Marketing Service set the award in favor of a New Jersey seller for numerous truckloads of mixed produce shipped in October 1978.

The firm failed to answer the charges, and the department ordered payment of the amount claimed.

M & L Fruiterers, Inc. is not eligible to operate in the produce business under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act until the award is paid.

In addition, the firm's officer, directors and major stockholders—George Gelsky and Sheldon Weinstein—may not be employed by or affiliated with any PACA licensee without the department's approval.

All interstate traders in fresh and frozen vegetables must be licensed under PACA, which establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry.

The department is authorized to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the Act.

for the settlement of Lancaster County and were as important as the Colt and barbed wire in settling the West. They are still essential in the southwest to pump water for irrigation, he said.

Gipe illustrated his talk with slide pictures of many different types of windmills, some made by individuals and others by experimenters funded from Federal grants. Many of the windmills invented by individuals are already in production and are for sale.

A windmill suitable for an average size farm in the northeast would cost around $15,000, he estimated, with a five year payback. Considerable research and planning must be done beforehand to determine if windpower is feasible in each location, he warned.

PFA directors who shared in the celebration were Fred Tiffany, of Athens, Keith Eckel of Clarks Summit, and Christian Wolff of New Alexandria.

The PFA, with a current membership of 22,217, is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau, the largest general farm organization in the nation.

Maybe it's time you switched fertilizer tanks

Switch to a Calumet Liquid Manure Spreader

Compared to today's—and tomorrow's—sky-high fertilizer prices, manure is just too valuable to waste. A hundred cow dairy herd, for example, can save thousands of dollars every year in fertilizer costs.

Take full advantage of this liquid gold with a Calumet liquid manure spreader teamed with a 4-shank soil injector. Injecting can help retain four times the nitrogen that's usually lost with surface spreading—in addition to reducing odor and run-off problems.

Calumet spreaders, in capacities from 1625 to 4500 gallons, are engineered for efficiency and longevity. Heavy duty steel alloy tanks are coated with epoxy to resist corrosion. Double reinforced A-frames and support skids add strength for heavy loads. All Calumet liquid spreaders are backed by a 12-month warranty.

Make the best use of the fertilizer produced on your farm with a Calumet liquid spreader and soil injector.

Call for information on the value of manure—and some good reasons why you should switch fertilizer tanks.
