Meet Martha Guest — Northampton-Lehigh Dairy Princess

Did you ever drink a Magic Cow? A Magic Cow is a mixture of milk and a pre-sweetened soft drink mix. This is a simple and easy drink anyone can make.

The Magic Cow is one technique that is used by Martha Guest, the Northampton-Lehigh Dairy Princess, in her promotional program.

Martha lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Guest on their 220 acre dairy farm. They produce and sell their milk at their Maple Grove Farms Dairy Store, located in Bath. Martha is presently attending Northampton Area Community College, majoring in commercial art. Some of Martha's hobbies include: horseback riding, bowling and both water and snow skiing. Most of her time is spent doing her major which is art.

Martha has several promotional pillows with such names as Minny, Vity, Carbo, Proto, and Fatto.

A special poem written by Martha with "Bossy" as the main character, was used in both the local and state princess pageants, and in some of her promotional appearances. This poem is about dairy farming with "Bossy" being the main character.

As Martha's year comes to an end, she will always remember the parades and working with children as the highlight of her reign.
