Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

A big garden takes a lot of hard work and if I didn't enjoy working outdoors, I wouldn't do it. In order to pay the rototilling bill, I sell sugar peas and strawberries. This year our berry crop was not very big as we sprayed the berries for weeds in the Fall before they were dormant and killed a lot of them.

After I sell the first crop of peas, I allow them to bloom again and then I freeze the second crop in July.

In my rush to plant the flower garden this year, I made a real mistake and planted a row of morning glories there instead of along the fence. I couldn't believe I'd done that and only discovered it after they were covered with ground. So when they came up, I transplanted a half dozen to the mailbox post and a dozen to the fence and another half dozen to the post that holds our dinner bell and they all grew.

I try to keep my onion rows immaculate as I remember some very grassy patches in past year when I had a "summer" baby. The 30 tomato plants are ready for paper bags to be laid under them before they branch out too much. The potatoes should be hilled and the leeks weeded again as they are so tiny for so long.

It is time to pull some of the red beets and carrots as fresh ones taste so delicious. And there is always the job of replacing one crop with another. When the hull pea fence comes down, in goes more green beans and some cucumbers and squash.

One never lacks for things to do in a garden although it is just a small part of my busy days.

Oley Twp. to work with rural historic group

OLEY — Oley Township, Pennsylvania has been selected as the one community from Pennsylvania for Rural Project, a three year assistance, by the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

There will be four Mid-Atlantic communities chosen to receive three year assistance of the National Trust

The project has four aims. to protect buildings, structures and villages integral to the countryside itself; to encourage compatible economic development that insures the continued viability of rural areas, and to promote the well-being of the present rural population

Since Oley Township Resource Conservation Project Phase 1 Work Program of Rural Project of National Trust for Historic Preservation was approved by Oley Township Supervisors we are ready for public community involvement.

There will be a meeting of Oley Township citizens to learn about Rural Project on Monday, June 30 at 7:30 p.m., Frieden's Lutheran Church on Route 73 Oley.

Over the years, one thing about Mol-Mix never changed. Quality.

From the first day that Mol-Mix® was made, the people at National Molasses made it with quality ingredients because they knew a better-quality supplement would mean more net profit for the cattlemen who used it

Today instead of decreasing or eliminating these quality ingredients because of shortages and higher costs Mol-Mix has maintained the same level of quality that has made it the liquid leader

BUFFERED RELEASE IS JUST PART OF OUR QUALITY STORY

Occasionally somebody finds out about one of our unique features and gets really excited about it For example, our buffered release of urea ammonia, heralded by other supplements as a brand-new innovation, has been in Mol-Mix for years to improve its protein-building efficiency And our performance-proven ingredients like corn distillers solubles, condensed fermented corn extractives, phosphoric acid, and ammonium polyphosphate, have yet to be included in most other supplements!

Stop in soon We would like to demonstrate the dramatic results that Mol-Mix can bring to your herd in terms of performance and profits We're not talking about something that will only add to your supplement costs we're talking about the bottom line
