Stops along the way, in addition to Hubbard and Favorite, were Dale

Rohrer's 60,000 started pullet operation, the Esbenshade farm, Pennfield's Egg Processing Plant at R1 Ephrata, Victor F. Weaver's Broiler Processing Plant and David Nolt's broiler operation.

All in all, it was a bird's eye view of the agricultural industry that now ranks first in ag sales in Lancaster County.

Hi there, little fellow. If you wouldn't have been so slow, you'd be on your way already.

to borrow until it's absolutely necessary."

Over 100 farmers have already filed applications for the two ASCS programs, in comparison with only two applications last year.

Reviewing the situation were Angerson, Judith Noyalas, executive director of the ASCS, Roslyn Kaher of the Soil Conservation District and Samuel Lewis of the Extension Service.

Also present were State Sen. Jeanette Reibman, State Rep. Russell Kowlayshyn, and a representative of U.S. Rep. Donald Ritter.

The politicians presented an interesting sidelight to the proceedings. Republican Ritter had issued a statement saying he would urge Governor Thornburgh to make the disaster declaration. Mrs. Reibman, a democrat, repeatedly made the point that the disaster status is decided within the structure of ASCS and FmHA and the governor has no say in the matter. Ritter is seeking re-election in November. His opponent is Mrs. Reibman.

Fine Trade

A couple of old friends ran into each other on a city street and began discussing the cute little dog one gent was taking for a walk. "Oh, what a cute little pup," commented the first. "I got it for my wife," beamed the other. "How'd you ever manage a fine trade like that?" was the incredulous reply.
