Elm-Penryn 4-H leaders honored for service

PENRYN — Luella Hosler and Carl W. Nestleroth were honored Monday night for their 25 years of service to the Elm-Penryn 4-H Club.

The two long-time leaders were presented a specially decorated cake and fruit baskets by the club.

Mrs. Hosler has led youngsters in gardening, indoor and outdoor flowers, sweet corn and strawberries in her 25 years of leadership with the Elm-Penryn Club.

Nestleroth's leadership over the past quarter century includes the areas of hogs, tobacco, capons, and rabbits.

The cake, decorated by Marcella Myer, read: "Carl, my flowers!" and "But they're my prize hogs" and a scene with Mrs. Hosler and Mr. Nestleroth in which his hogs were invading her flowers.

The two leaders agreed that the 4-H club had changed some over the years. Twenty-five years ago the club had a membership of about 30 youngsters. Today there are over 100 members in the Elm-Penryn Club.

"I'll tell you one thing," Nestleroth commented. "This club has taken a lot of county-wide first places in all phases over the years."

Pair attends corn tour

LANDISVILLE — Frank Bucher, Rothsville, and Ernest Mellinger, Quarryville, both seed salesman for Hoffman Seeds, Inc., Landisville, recently joined 21 men from New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia on a tour of the company's seed corn production facilities in Central Illinois.

The pair's trip was provided because of increased sales of Funk's G Hybrid Corn.

While in Illinois, the group observed the seed corn production facilities in Yates City and Bloomington, and toured research plots of corn and soybeans.

Mrs. Hosler, who is leaving the 4-H Club, said she would still be available to offer advice if it's needed. Mr. Nestleroth will continue as leader with the Elm-Penryn Club.

The highlight of the tour was a trip through Funk's Research Acres near Bloomington, where the first open corn hybrids were developed and hybrid corn research has continued over a period of 75 years.

The seed men were told that an adequate seed corn crop will be harvested this Fall.
