home the Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Champion at Monday's Junior Ayrshire show. His three-year-old Melody Lane Silver Rose was the first place entry in her class of 3 and 4 year olds, and was selected as the best uddered cow.

This was Cooper's first year in FFA competition, although he's been competing in 4-H dairy shows for seven years. The 14-year-old member of the Kennard-

Two other area Ayrshire competitors took the Junior Champion and Reserve Junior Champion honors respectively.

Sherry Keefer, R1 Millersburg, Dauphin County, exhibited her 4-H junior yearling for a blue ribbon in her class, outranking Susan Kulp, of Pottstown, Chester County and her first place senior yearling for the top Junior honors. Kulp was selected as First Place Owner-Breeder in her class, and both girls were selected as Master Fitters.

In the Milking Shorthorn show, Berks County's Yoder sisters from Shoemaker-ville swept the championships from Junior to Grand.

Wendy Yoder exhibited both the Grand and Reserve Grand Champion cows, the first and second place animals in the class of 3 and 4 year olds. She also had the Junior Champion Milking Shorthorn, her junior yearling. Both champions were her FFA entries, with the Reserve Grand Champion her 4-H entry.
