Fed's Volcker to address Farm Bureau convention

PARK RIDGE, Ill. — Paul A. Volcker, chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, will be a principal speaker at the 62nd annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Robert B. Delano, AFBF president announced here Monday.

The meeting will be in New Orleans January 11 to 15, 1981 with an expected 8000 farmers and ranchers in attendance. Volcker will address the delegates in a general session at the Louisiana Superdome the morning of January 12, Delano said.

Volcker, a native of New Jersey, has been chairman of the Federal Reserve System board since August 6, 1979, at which time he automatically also became chairman of the Federal Open Market Committee and a member of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Policies.

Before his appointment to the Federal Reserve System, Volcker spent four years as president and chief executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Positions Volcker has held during his career include Under Secretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs, director of analysis for the U.S. Treasury and vice president and financial economist at Chase Manhattan Bank. Volcker will hold a news conference following his address.

Delano said the Farm Bureau meeting will get underway with a vesper service the evening of Sunday, January 11. Activities Monday and Tuesday include general sessions, commodity and special interest conferences, Young Farmers and Ranchers "discussion meet."

Business sessions at which policy decisions will be made by voting delegates are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, January 14-15.

A highlight of the meeting will be the AFBF annual recognition and awards program the evening of January 13 featuring Pete Fountain and his jazz band in a Mardi Gras spectacular.
