FFA chapters receive safety awards

KANSAS CITY, MO. — In recognition of their continuing promotion of safety awareness, 128 chapters of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) will receive outstanding achievement awards as a part of the National FFA Chapter Safety Award Program.

Sponsored jointly by the Farm and Industrial Equipment Institute (FIEI) of Chicago and Dow Chemical U.S.A. of Midland, Michigan, through the National FFA Foundation, the awards will be presented on Wednesday, November 12, at the 1960 National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

The top 30 FFA chapters will be presented "Gold Emblem" safey award, the highest award in the program. "Silver Emblem" awards will be presented to another 47 chapters, and 51 chapters will receive the "Bronze Emblem" award.

Farm chemical and machinery safety were two areas often specifically identified by chapters as focal points for their efforts in 1979-80. Many also mounted major efforts in conducting farm safety surveys, promotion of slowmoving vehicle signs, safe corn harvest campaigns and safety instruction programs for elementary school classes.

The FFA Chapter Safety Award is one of three awards recognizing chapter participation in activities of national significance. It is designed to increase awareness of safety practices through classroom instruction and educational activities. Each year accidents on the farm and in the home exact a tragic toll of death, destruction, and mutilation among rural and urban families.

The FFA Safety Program is designed to make students aware of the causes of accidents and motivate FFA Chapters to become actively involved in creating greater awareness of prevention procedures.

All FFA Chapters are eligible to participate in the National FFA Safety Program. Applications for the Chapter Safety Award are submitted to the State FFA Association which must rank the chapters. Ten percent of the chapters submitting applications ranked as Superior Chapters at the state level are eligible for national competition.

At the national level chapters are rated gold, silver, or bronze, and are presented a gold, silver or bronze spur designating their rank. The spur is to be placed on a plaque presented the first year the chapter earns recognition. The plaque is designed for spurs to be attached over a period of several years.

The FFA has approximately 8,000 local high school chapters in 50 States and Puerto Rico. Judging of the safety award applications in national competition was conducted in Alexandria, Virginia, under the supervision of the National FFA Organization by representatives of education, government and agricultural business.
