

Farm Business News

Allied Mills of Lancaster is proud of two new delivery trucks each worth approximately $75,000. The trucks with a carrying capacity of 23-24 tons each, have three axles, one of which is air operated to be used only for heavy hauls. The trucks compare with other Allied Mills trucks which run about $45,000 each and carry only 15 tons. Both trucks will be used to haul bag and bulk feed for farm and dealer delivery. Standing by the truck is (left to right) R.E. Thiel, plant manager; Glenn Bollinger, driver; Howard Long, driver of this truck; Ryan Strait, driver; and Al Sutton, manager of motor fleet operations.

Animals may have their own pets. An elephant at the San Diego Zoo was very attached to a Shetland pony who shared his quarters.
