COUNTRY COOKS 4-H CLUB

The members of the Country Cooks 4-H Club held meetings recently at the Cole residence in Neshanic Station. Flowers were potted and chenille pumpkins created by the members of the club at the first meeting. A party was held during the second meeting. Members prepared caramel corn, stained glass cookies and chocolate candies for refreshments.

HUNTERDON COUNTY FEATHERED FRIENDS 4-H CLUB

Two demonstrations were given at the November meeting of the Feathered Friends Waterfowl 4-H Club. Lorrie Nief gave one on "Ferrets" and Amy Berlik discussed "Sea horses." A movie was shown to the members on geese. A test on waterfowl was given to the members. Members are to complete this test and send it back to Mrs. Woske.

Members participated in the Garden State Poultry Fanciers Association Chicken & Duck Show held last Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 15 & 16 at the Flemington Fairgrounds.

A movie on ducks and geese will be shown at their next meeting, scheduled for December 8 at the Woske residence in Whitehouse Station.

HUNTERDON COUNTY KIDS 4-H GOAT CLUB

The members of the Hunterdon County Kids 4-H Goat Club held their November meeting at the Rausch residence in Bloomsbury.

Members discussed raising and caring for Dairy Goats, using "Breeding, Feeding and Management" and "Some Considerations in Raising Goats" as their guidelines.

Three presentations will be given at their next meeting, to be held at the Rausch home in Bloomsbury on December 6, according to reporter, Steve Supowit picked up red and yellow maple leaves and some acorns

When Allen measured the distance that I'd walked with the car odometer it was only five miles but it seemed like more

As we drove home, we saw several more deer and so I changed my mind about not getting a hunting license this year and bought one. You see, our son will be in Chicago on opening day of deer season and I don't want Allen to go hunting alone

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

As winter approaches and the blustery winds blow stronger we try to spend all the pleasant sunny days outdoors. And so, one morning last week I packed a big lunch and my husband and I set out to hunt turkey. He with a gun and me with a camera.

We drove miles over bumpy, stony roads into a new area and finally found a parking space on a dead-end road. He headed into the woods where he eventually saw three turkeys scratching merrily away but they didn't come close enough to shoot as he wore a red coat and they are not color blind as deer are.

I decided to continue walking to the end of the narrow road. It beckoned me to continue and see what lay around the next bend and beyond the next hill but there seemed to be no end.

It was a bit unnerving as the silence was broken by a ruffed grouse which rose up and flew noisily away from the edge of the woods. For an hour I didn't see another person walking in the forest.

When I stopped to poke my foot into a very large ant hill, I spied a deer running across the road ahead of me. Then another followed and I realized that my camera should be used but until I got my gloves off and focused it the third deer had lightly leaped into the woods and sped away.

pennfield Dairy Mineral Program

While most minerals are only needed in a small level in a dairy feed, they are nevertheless very important in maintaining good milk production and optimal herd health.

Particular attention needs to be paid to the mineral nutrition of dairy cows because the forages that they consume vary widely in mineral content.

For this reason, the Pennfield Mineral Program is composed of three different formulas which are designed to complement the forage feeding programs on the farm. These minerals can be fed free choice, used in complete rations or top dressed on the bunk.

Fat Booster Pack is helpful in milk fat depression problems commonly found in the summer and also for cows on low fiber roughages.
