KUTZTOWN — Berks County 4-H'ers and their parents gathered at the Kutztown Grange last Saturday to honor their own during the annual Baby Beef Club Banquet.

Following a delicious 4-H Baby Beef dinner catered by the Grange and the introduction of guests and 4-H club leaders by club president Liane Haas, and county agent Clyde Myers, the large group was entertained by a program entitled "Downhome Enjoyment" presented by members and parents.

However the highlight of the evening, as far as the 4-H members were concerned, was the presentation of awards. Receiving the trophy for Grand Champion Steer was first time champion winner - Carol Strause of Hamburg.

Darlene Dietrich, also of Hamburg, was presented the Reserve Grand Champion trophy for the performance of her steer at the County Round-Up and sale held earlier in the season.

Darlene also received awards for Senior showman and Senior Blueform, while Carol received the Senior Fitter award and also the Senior Project Book award. Cheryl Adam, another resident of Hamburg, received an award for Most Total Weight Gained and Kent Fisher, Oley, was honored for his Champion Heifer. Kent also received awards for Champion Junior Fitter, Junior Project Book.

Kent's older brother Kirk also took an award home. Kirk's award was for his Intermediate Blueform. Thirteen year old Kenianne Rarick, Reading Rd., was presented with awards for Intermediate Showman, and Fitter, and Reserve Champion Heifer.

Champion Junior Showman was Mary Ann Yanos, Douglasville, also cited for her Junior Blueform. Lynn Lorah, Douglasville, was awarded for the best Intermediate Project Book.
