

What made the news in 1980?

Ann Starr, the National Pork Queen, attended the 1980 Pa. Keystone Pork Congress, held February 13 and 14 in Lancaster.

A couple of hundred farmers and truckers filled the Refton Fire Hall on December 29 to protest weights limits and the condition of bridges in the southern section of Lancaster County. State Dept.

of Transportation officials promised priority will be given to troublesome spans. But availability of limited funds for repairs will remain as a major stumbling block.

PAY FOR YOUR TRIP TO THE FARM SHOW WITH THIS RED BEDDING CHOPPER SALE OFFER.

Your choice of one of these steam locomotive limited edition fine art prints is included free with a special Pennsylvania Farm Show purchase of a tough built, red bedding chopper from US Farm Systems of Pennsylvania. When you think about the early days of American Agriculture, you remember these steam-driven engines hauled your grandfather's produce, grain and livestock to the hungry cousins in the growing towns and cities of the Northeast. The return trip provided the life-blood link of mail and medicine to the remote farm whistle-stop communities that nestled in the plains and valleys of that by-gone period of history.

Because these prints were created as limited edition prints designed to grow in value as they hang in your home or farm office, only a relatively small number of sets were produced before they threw away the original.

Order At The Farm Show To pay for your trip to the Pennsylvania Farm Show this year, be prepared to place an order for the tough-built, red bedding choppers on display at our booth. These science-engineered choppers, take bales of straw, old hay or corn stalks and chop the material into fluffy short-cut bedding even your highest producing cows can enjoy. No more sawdust to hold moisture and germs under your cows. No more long straw to shake out.

In addition, dairymen use the tough-built, red bedding chopper to make first-cutting hay more palatable. With the short cut hay stems, cows eat more. Eat all of it. Produce more milk.

So pay for your trip to the farm show. Order a tough-built, red bedding chopper from the models on display at our booth. And choose your free limited edition investment locomotive print from the set on display.
