chores and machine shop this week — with spring around the corner, the 1981 Farm Machinery Expo will be great to remember as you're riding a tractor — round after round.

Enjoy, enjoy. Special Expo events include the First Spring Classic Goat Show, sponsored by the Blue Mountain Dairy Goat Association, Thursday, March 5 at 9:30 a.m. The show, in the West Building of the complex, will offer $1242 in premiums. Goats will be on exhibit the remainder of the Exposition.

Thursday evening, in the small arena at 6:30 p.m., the Angus Breeding Sale will begin.

Stock Tractor Pulling Contest will be held at the large arena all day Thursday and Friday. Beginning at 10 a.m. will be the 5500 pound pull, 1 p.m. the 9000 pull, 4 p.m. the 13,000 pound pull and at 7 p.m. the top ten finalists from the day's pull will compete for the championship title. A total of $3000 will be offered in this contest.

Stock Tractor Pulls continue Friday at 10 a.m. with the 7500 pound class. At 1 p.m. the 11,000 pound class will compete and at 4 p.m. the 15,000 pound class will pull. At 7 p.m. the championship pull, featuring the top ten finalists from Friday's competition will compete for champion puller.

The Second Annual Keystone Classic All Breeds Swine Show will begin on Friday, March 6 at 9 a.m. in the small arena. Eight major breeds will be represented with 97 head consigned.

Following the swine show, the Third Annual Draft Horse and Mule Show and Sale takes over the arena. The show begins at 1 p.m. with a sale immediately following. Thirty seven horses including Percheron, Belgian, cross bred Belgians and mules have been consigned.

The Second Annual

loaded out. Martin noted milk production is up 4 percent nationwide. He warned the Co-op members that the present administration is not going to continue to buy dairy products to support high prices in the dairy industry. The Inter-State director recommended members not wait for higher beef prices to move cull cows. He also supported the advertising efforts, noting that the 'Cheese Adds a Slice of Life' campaign increased sales from 4-33 percent.

Our product does no good in government warehouses,' he concluded. It needs to be gotten into the hands of consumers. Inter-State members recognized for a quarter century of getting milk from cow to consumer included James Zimmerman, R1 Ephrata, who's seen an increase from 20 head of Holsteins when he started milking 25-years ago in pails with the help of wife, Jean, to his present day 60 head and pipeline system, Clyde Buchan, Manheim, who milks 195 Holsteins and farms 500 acres with son, Gary, and Vernon Nissley, R2 Manheim.

Production record recognition was given to Donald Hershey, R5 Manheim, Glenn Hershey, R5 Manheim, and Glen and Earl Burkholder, R3 Litz.

Inter-State President Robert McSparran spoke to the milk producers about over-production — up 6 percent in Pennsylvania since January — and the antibiotic problem. He presented retiring County Agent Max Smith with a $100 gift certificate from the Lancaster Locals.
