

With stalls projecting out over the grated manure gutter, milkers can be hooked up to the pipeline and attached to the udders with a minimum of bending and kneeling between animals.

spaced along the block walls, admitting maximum amounts of light and ventilation, and large doors open at both ends of the structure for additional air flow and equipment access.

Six box stalls were included for cows getting special care. Each pen has its own tie-stall section, for feeding and milking, built over the grated gutter to reduce the amount of clean-up needed in the bedded area.

A DeLaval milking system of two-inch stainless pipeline and two-inch vacuum line runs just above the lou-area of the cows, with a plug-in above each animal.

The eight DV300 units are attached to the udders from the side exposed by the stall angling, and two milkers finish the 82-head in ninety minutes.

A Fre-Heater exchanger draws the warmth of the cooling milk from the 1500-gallon bulk tank to pre-heat water for the milking system wash cycles, helping to cut some of the hot water energy cost.

Friday, March 20, beginning at 10:30 a.m., the Bupp's will host the York County manure management meeting. Penn State and local extension staffers will discuss the manure handling systems incorporated into the design. A general public open house will follow the session.

The Bupp farm is located about eight miles south of York, between Exits 2 and 3 of Interstate 83, off Ridge View Road, just east of old Route 111, the York-Baltimore road.

Fulton Grange holds regular meeting

OAKRYN — Fulton Grange No. 66 met in regular session Monday at the Grange Hall in Oakryn. The Master, Thomas C. Galbreath, presided at the business section. Fulton Grange will be host for the Lancaster County Pomona Grange No. 71 spring meeting Saturday, April 11, 8 p.m. instead of the third Saturday of April.

Fulton Grange gave a $50 donation to the Solanco Medical Scholarship Fund. Harry Baker was appointed chairman of ticket sales for the Grange's annual turkey supper April 4.

The Master gave a report of the Pennsylvania State Grange regional conference held at West Chester. Five people from this Grange attended. He also reported attending the Solanco School District long range planning meeting.

Clifford Holloway Jr., chairman of the tour committee, reminded the members to get their reservations in for the one-day tour to Tangier Island May 23rd.

In other business the men made plans to remove a tree from the hall grounds March 14. The Grange also voted to have a piano tuned.

Mrs. J. Stanley Stauffer Jr. presented the program which opened with group singing "The Grange Is Marching On."

She then presented Ronald Althoff, a member of the Solanco Senior High School faculty in the Agricultural Department, who accompanied the following FFA members who are members of the Solanco Parliamentary Procedure Team: Doug Hershberger, Ken Scott, Leon and Tina Tadych, Jack Heidelbaugh, Brent Holzauer, Tom Herr and Ken Miller. These students put on a very fine demonstration of conducting their business meeting. They will be competing in county-wide competition.

Mrs. Stauffer conducted a game in which Richard Holloway modelled a shirt adorned with 35 items all farmers should have at hand, and all were to list them. Edward Zug listed the most.

The next meeting will be held March 23.
