

Chester conservation field days coming April 21, 22

WEST CHESTER — A major soil conservation demonstration will take place April 21 and 22. During these two days, 75 acres at the H. E.

Myrick Conservation center of the Brandywine Valley Association will be transformed into a model of good soil conservation practices.

Under the guidance of Soil Conservation Services technicians, practices such as contour strips, grassed waterways, diversions, terraces, tile drainage and a farm pond will be installed.

The purpose of the field day is to show the value of good soil conservation practices and the benefit these can provide to individual farmers as well as entire watersheds.

The event is sponsored by the Chester County Conservation District which has sponsored previous field days. The first one, in 1948, also involved in Soil Conservation Services and Brandywine Valley Association.

Many contractors will participate in this demonstration and are donating their time and equipment

For more information on the Soil Conservation Field Day, contact the Chester County Conservation District, 215/696-5126, the Soil Conservation Service, 215/696-0398, or Brandywine Valley Association, 215/793-1090

Arlinda daughter tops Md. Calf Sale

WESTMINSTER, Md. — The top-selling calf at the Carroll County, Maryland Calf Sale held here at the Carroll County Ag Center, is a daughter of Glendell Arlinda Chief, one of the top ten sires in the Holstein breed

The calf is out of an Excellent dam with a record of over 1000 pounds fat. She was consigned by Marlin Hoff, New Windsor, Md

Making the last and highest bid for the Chief daughter were two brothers, Dennis and Wayne Savage, partners in the operation of Savage-Leigh Farm in Montgomery County, Maryland

The second high selling animal was consigned by Bernard Remsburg, Frederick, Maryland and sold to Steve Hobson, Harney, Maryland for $2650
