

Rumler receives Distinguished Service Award

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Robert H. Rumler, Executive Chairman of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt., has been named the first annual recipient of the Distinguished Service Award given by the National Society of Livestock Records Association.

"This award will be presented annually to a representative of the livestock industry who, in the opinion of member organizations of NSLRA, have made significant contributions to the welfare of animal agriculture," said H.H. Dickenson, Executive Vice-President of the American Hereford Association and current President of NSLRA.

Rumler has been a unique leader in the livestock industry for the past 45 years. A graduate of Penn State he began his career as assistant county agent in Pettis County, Missouri in 1936. Since 1948, he has been affiliated with the Holstein-Friesian Association, serving as executive secretary and then chairman of that organization.

He is a past president of NSLRA and has served numerous livestock organizations as an officer and director. As a spokesman for the livestock industry on the international scene, Rumler has traveled to 46 countries.

The National Society of Livestock Records Association was organized in 1911. It is a organization of livestock registry associations, all non-profit organizations having common standards, common interests and believe in the purebred philosophy as a means of livestock improvement. The Society currently has 54 member associations. Represented in the Society through their parent organization membership are 354,366 breeders of all classes of livestock.

Starting with 1981, member organizations will be entitled to nominate one person who, in their estimation, rates consideration for the Distinguished Service Award which will be presented each year during the annual meeting of NSLRA. Organizations comprising the membership and eligibility for the award come from the dairy, beef, swine, horse, sheep and dairy goat registry groups.

"It is significant that in glancing back over the years there are many outstanding persons in each of the representative organizations who would have made excellent choices for this award," said Dickenson. "It is hoped that from this date forward proper recognition will be made of these stalwarts in the livestock industry."
