

Troy Fair Dairy Show boasts 200 entries

TROY — The Troy Fair open dairy shows welcomed 200 of Bradford County's outstanding cattle and dairy producers last week.

The event began with the 102-head Holstein show on Thursday and wrapped up Friday with two colored breed shows — Jerseys and Guernseys. Judging the two days of competition was John Marchezak of Bentleyville, Washington County.

Windy Mont Farm, Columbia Crossroads, walked away with a number of Holstein show trophies. They exhibited the grand champion female, the senior champion, and the top 4-year-old. They also had the best three females, and, along with Calkins Farm, Troy, had the senior get of sire.

Calkins Farm captured the reserve grand champion, reserve senior champion, and top senior 2-year-old honors. They also took top seating in the group classes, winning the blue ribbons for top dairy herd, produce of dam, and dam and daughter.

The junior champion Holstein award went to the entry of Lynn and Bonne Miller of Towanda, the top senior yearling. They also received top honors for junior get of sire.

The reserve junior champion was exhibited by Braund Valley Farm, Troy. They had the top intermediate calf and junior yearling, along with the first place aged dry cow.

The best udder honors went to the entry of Richard and Marilyn Packard, Troy — their first place 5-year-old. The Packards also exhibited the first place 3-year-old and the first place 3 and 4-year old dry cow.

Hi-Lev Farms, Troy, went home

The Richard Jenkins family of Troy smile happily as they accept the banners for premier breeder and exhibitor at last Thursday's Holstein show held during the Troy Fair in Bradford County. Pictured, from left to right are: Bob with the lifetime production award and the ribbon for first place junior 2-year-old.

Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenkins, Donald Jenkins, Judge John Marchezak, and Bradford Dairy Princess Jean Sheeley.

Junior calf and senior calf honors went to Yvonne Wilcox Scott and Deanna Sparling, respectively. Both winners are from Troy.

Premier breeder and exhibitor honors went to Richard Jenkins and family, Troy.

The senior champion exhibited by Jersey Maples of LeRaysville was selected by Judge Marchezak as grand champion in the 58-head Jersey show. The farm's entries took blue ribbons in the 3 and 4-year-old dry cow class, the aged dry cow class, and the 4-year-old class. They also received honors for best udder.

Robert Eick went home to his Columbia Cross Roads farm with a number of top awards, including the coveted premier breeder award. His top placing 5-year-old Jersey was selected for the reserve senior championship and went on to claim the reserve grand champion's honors. Eick also exhibited the first place junior yearling and junior 2-year-old, along with the best three females.

Shady-Hill-Side Farm, Troy, claimed their share of trophies during the Friday show, taking reserve junior champion and first place in three group classes. They had the top dairy herd, produce of dam, and daughter and dam entries, along with the top junior and intermediate calf entries, senior 2-year-old and senior get of sire. Their wins brought them the honor of premier exhibitor at this year's fair.

(Turn to Page A37)

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs.

MILTON MARTIN

Street, MD

On Their NEW 60 COW FREESTALL DAIRY COMPLEX

Covered With
REYNOLDS ALUMINUM

For All Your Farm Building
Needs, Large or Small,
Let Our Experience
Work For You

AGRI-INC.

DESIGNERS & BUILDERS of SYSTEMS

RD 4 EPHRATA, PA 17522
Located In Farmersville
Phone 717-354-4271