

Lebanon Fair posts rabbit results

LEBANON — The rabbits came 'hopping' into the Lebanon County Fairgrounds Sunday for the annual show, held in conjunction with the Lebanon Area Fair.

Actually, their owners carried the furry creatures into the rabbit barn — their precious cargos secure inside cardboard boxes, or carrying cages.

Judging the row upon row of rabbit entries was Jack Pugh, a well-known rabbit breeder from Virginia.

The results of the competition are:

Change in nutrition helps move a 20,000-lb. herd up in milk production

Although their 60-cow herd of registered Holsteins was producing over 20,000 lbs. of milk in 1979, Loren and Dianna Englebrecht wondered if the cows were really reaching their true production potential.

So in October of 1979 they went on a complete Triple "F" nutritional program. At that time the herd was at 20,163 lbs. of milk and 712 lbs. of butterfat. In January of 1979, they went to 3-times-a-day milking

No. 1 in Milk in Iowa

By May of 1980, production was up to 22,060 lbs of milk and 742 lbs. of butterfat That was enough to make the herd No. 1 in Iowa in milk production of all herds on DHIA or DHIR test It was, in fact, the highest DHIA record ever achieved in Iowa

"What we really like is the improvement in income over feed cost," says Mrs. Englebrecht "That's up to $1,498 per cow and our goal is to see if we can push it over $2,000."

Good management and dedication certainly play a part in the success story of this Waterloo couple. Both grew up in the dairy business and got started on their own in 1975 with four bred heifers they bought in Pennsylvania and two cows that were daughters of a top producing cow owned by Dianna's father

Dianna and Loren Englebrecht

By the time they got to their first rolling herd average in 1976, their herd totaled 15 cows and was at 15,988 lbs of milk and 570 lbs of butterfat They've brought the herd on up in size and production ever since

'You Really Get Excited'

The Englebrechts use the full range of Triple "F" dairy products, including Heat Treated Protein (HTP), Base Mixes and Minerals

"When you see the improvement this nutritional program brought within just a few months, you really get excited about the future," says Englebrecht

WHAT ABOUT YOUR HERD?

Triple "F" nutrition can be working to increase your dairy production, too. Our ration calculator and computer services can show you how to get maximum production from your herd and feedstuffs.
