MCMP reaction appears positive

BALTIMORE, Md. — Most of the member reaction to the proposed consolidation between the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers and Dairymen, Inc., a large southeastern co-op appears fairly positive, an MCMP spokeswoman said recently.

MCMP Public Relations Director Susie Richburg explained that due to a series of local informal meetings, most co-op members understand the basics of the pending merger.

"We seem to have cleared up a lot of questions through that avenue," she said.

The Maryland co-op is currently in the process of conducting formal district meetings in which members have a chance to vote via secret ballot.

"This is probably the most important decision the membership has had to make since the cooperative was formed in 1918," said Donald E. Cole, District 2 director.

"It is extremely important that each member obtain the facts about this move and that each member makes his desires known. We will be making an effort to have every member vote on this issue," Cole said.

Voter turnout for the first seven of eight district meetings has been about 86 percent said MCMP representative Robin Applegate.

The final district meeting will be a District 4 gathering at the Walkersville Carnival Ground in Frederick County, Md. on Monday, August 17 at 8:00.

A special meeting of the entire membership is scheduled for August 24 at Marriott's Hunt Valley Inn in Cockeysville, Md. Although ballots have been distributed at all local and district meetings, no votes will be counted until the final vote is taken at the Hunt Valley meeting.

According to Richburg, a two-thirds affirmative vote of the cooperative's total membership or 777 yes votes are required for approval of the resolution. — DT

Judge William Etgen takes a long hard look at an entering class of Holsteins. Etgen, a dairy science professor at Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, said he was impressed with the quality of animals entered in the Eastern Championship Show.

It was a long day for some show participants. Dwight Stoltzfus, 11, finds peace and quiet nestled behind his junior calf "Rosie." Dwight is the son of Harvey and Mary Jane Stoltzfus, Morgantown.
