

2-Year-old tops Nat'l Guernsey Show

HARRISBURG — Guernsey judge Richard Keene, Gilbertsville, N.Y., claimed he was "extremely impressed with the 2-year-old class." And he backed-up his words with action by selecting from that class both the Grand and Reserve Champions of the National Guernsey Show, Wednesday.

Wee Manor T.C. Lucky, a senior 2-year-old wore the Grand Champion rosette home to Bushy Park Farm in Wake Virginia. Due to freshen in May to Telestar, the champ is sired by Wee Manor Top Command and out of Leafy Lane Dreams Lucky.

Keene went with the second place 2-year-old for Reserve Grand Champion. Keystone Big T. Jennifer was owned and exhibited by John and Bonnie Ayars, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

The Reserve Champ is by Co Hill Farms TH Big Tex and out of Smithside H Jewel, a cow a 15,328 record as a 5-year-old.

Keene selected Holcombs D F Daisy as Junior Champion, owned and exhibited by Robert Holcomb, Greene, N.Y. The senior heifer calf is by Housley Dari Favor and out of Holcombs G Della.

Holcomb was later selected as Premier Breeder and Exhibitor after racking up almost a half dozen blue and red ribbon winners throughout the competition. Holcomb's entries contributed to the top New York state herd which placed first, ahead of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia.

Poverty Hollow Farm of Corfu, N.Y., claimed the Reserve Junior Champion with their senior yearling heifer, Leaders Maverick Betsy. Sired by Olympic View B Maverick the New York heifer is out of Leaders Prince Bell.

In his first major competition of the season, Ger Mik Acres Heather's Brady, topped the bull competition and was named Grand Champion. The Telestar son, a junior yearling, was owned and exhibited by Glenn Mumaw, Orrville, Ohio.

Pennsylvania breeders Ned and Virgie McDonald, Imier, took home Reserve Grand Champion Bull honors with their senior yearling Green Slopes Gardienas.

Out of Green Slopes Gerrys Gardiena, the reserve champ is sired by Housleys Dari Favor, the show's Premier Sire.

Brown Swiss sale grosses $62,000

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania Brown Swiss Sale, held in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show, grossed over $62,000 Monday, with 35 calves, bred heifers and cows crossing the auction block.

"This was an excellent sale," according to show manager Charles Ite. "The sale average was $1,723, up from last year's $1,350. The quality of the sale animals was exceptional and plenty of buyers were on hand."

Robert G. Hoffman of North Leads, Maine, was the successful bidder of the high selling cow, Jill Jan Donna, at $3,300. This three year old that ranks in the top 50 cows in the United States for index score was consigned by R-Hart Farms of Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Jill Jan Donna boasted a 4.4 percent butter fat record and milked 305 days at two years, one month of age. She milked 13,960 pounds of milk as a two-year-old.

A bred heifer, Alfalfa Acre Talisman Ivy, claimed the second high selling spot as bidding stopped at $3,000. She sold to Donald B. and Carol A. Trumble of Peach Bottom. The heifer, who was bred to "White Clouds Jason's Elegant," was consigned by Robert Hoffman of North Leads, Maine.

Bruce A. Keener of West Salem, Ohio, sold his "Very Good-87" cow to George L. Bassler of Rock Ridge, Maryland, for $2,900. The cow, "Spring Hills Designs Snooks," recently freshened and is milking 80 pounds per day.

Waverly Farm shows Jersey champ

HARRISBURG — The Robert Stiles Family, Clearbrook, Va. exhibited the Grand Champion Female at the All-American Jersey Show, Thursday.

Hetherington Stardoms Babette, a senior yearling, is by Marlu Milestone Stardom and out of Valiant Babe of Hetherington, a cow who boasts a 6.0 percent butterfat test as a 2-year-old. The Stiles will also hang this year's Premier Exhibitor banner at their dairy, Waverly Farm.

Gaywinds Farm, Keymar Md., claimed the Reserve Grand Champion with their 3-year-old, Gaywinds Golden Cindy. Owned and exhibited by Kathy Covell, the Cindy cow was later named the Best Milking Female. Covell's entry is out of Gaywinds Generator Christy and sired by the show's Premier Sire, Golden Faithful.

The Premier Sire and Breeder banners will hang at Silver Spring Farm, the home of the Fred Luchsinger Family, Syracuse, N.Y. Luchsinger's show string included the Junior Champion

Female, Lavender Karen Panda of SSF, bred to Golden Faithful. The junior champ is sired by Sleeper Karen Lavender and out of Faithful Miss Petunia of SSF.

The Reserve Junior Champion carried the Silver Spring prefix but was owned and exhibited by Gretchen Buecheler, Marcellus, N.Y. Buecheler's senior yearling, Pacetter Flower of SSF is an HVF daughter and due in mid-October to Milestone Generator.

The bull competition was light with few entries and Kalmar Farm, Harrington, De. walked off with the Grand Champion Rosette. The champ, Kalmar Jody Blue Dino is a 2-year-old sired by Jody's
