Be it ever so humble...

or what's this cow doing in my bed?

HARRIBBURG - Move over Best Western.

The Farm Show Complex easily could have been dubbed the "Best Eastern," last month after housing hundreds of road-weary dairy cattle breeders during the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show.

Because the nearest doorknob was a few hundred feet away, this weary guest didn't bother with a "Do Not Disturb" sign. However, that didn't matter since he slumbered right through popping flashbulbs and an endless parade of cattle which marched passed him toward the milking parlor.

Limousin service? With 14 acres to cover in just a week, some exhibitors took advantage of the shuttle service which also doubled as a hay cart. Although gratuities were included in the 7-day package, this rowdy group from New York "tipped" more than once before the

Therapeutic beds, such as the one on which Gerald Palm, North Fairfield, Ohio, is mapping, provided that extra bit of support for aching backs. Even though Palm claimed he wasn't sleeping, he looked well-rested the following day in the winner's circle with his Grand Champion Ayrshire Female.
