

Ever consider decorating with nuts?

LANCASTER — For you homemakers looking for a new decorating idea for the holidays, why not try nuts, berries and beans?

Who said they only are for eating? Have you ever noticed how beautiful these fruits of the environment are?

Take a jar and in it place a thick, scented candle and then pour cranberries around the candle.

Beautiful, eh?

If stringing popcorn isn't your forte, try stringing cranberries. Drap them over the mantel and wrap them around the Christmas tree.

As for nuts, use your imagination. The many uses of nuts have long been overlooked when it comes to decorating; Also in baking — unless you've already read Home on the Range.

Before reading any farther, can you name at least three decorating ideas with nuts? Maybe you should begin to discover the incredible multi-purpose nut.

How about using your favorite bowl and fill it with assorted nuts. Looks good, tastes good, and couldn't be easier to create.

Nutcrackers are popular Christmas and even autumn traditions. Do you have any that are hidden away on the shelf? Display them with a bowl of hickory nuts or walnuts to crack.

The Diamond Walnut producers have published a pamphlet describing decorating ideas using their walnuts. Why not try a few?

For creating with walnuts, it is best to remove the walnut kernels and reglue the empty shells together. Diamond says, for best results, to slip the tip of a screwdriver into the seam at the rounded end of the walnut. Move it gently up and down until the halves part. Use the kernels for your cooking and baking.

To make a holiday candle, wire clusters of walnuts to a sprayed pine branch. Add some acorns made by pressing two gumdrop fruit slices around rounded end of walnut before wrapping it. To complete, arrange some unwrapped walnuts at the base of the decoration.

To make a gift corsage that can be worn or added to a wrapped package, wire together walnuts, gum drops, artificial roses, dried flowers and ferns.

If you enjoy making wreaths in many media, whether it be pine wreaths or fruit wreaths, add walnuts for a nature effect.

And when the decorating is finished and the goodies all made, remember to add a big walnut and watch the tot's faces light up with delight.—DK
