

Berks hosts conservation contractors workshop

LEESPORT — A conservation equipment operators meeting, sponsored jointly by the Berks Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service, has been scheduled for January 29, 1982 according to Roy Shryock, conservations technician. The meeting is scheduled at the Agricultural Center from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with luncheon provided.

The planned program will have an update of conservation practice specifications, safety presentations, a review of ACT 285 on utilities and a Pa. Land Improvement Contractors Assn. presentation. Shryock says the new pond policy of the conservation district will be explained.

"This meeting is an opportunity for equipment operators to learn new techniques, swap ideas and renew acquaintances with other operators," he says. "It also gives an opportunity for technicians and soil conservationists to get to know the operators and help them do their jobs better."

practices."

Anyone desiring additional information about the meeting or any other conservation problems should contact the Berks Soil Conservation Service at the Agricultural Center or call 215/372-4655.

HAVING SOIL PROBLEMS?

Here's A Timely Tip...

Apply lime on frozen ground

Lime can be applied almost anytime, however winter months are ideal, because the ground is firm and the freezing and thawing action helps to disseminate the lime in the soil.
