LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS FOR: vac-u-vator®

Contrary to what most people think, grain is never touched by the power VAC-U-VATOR turbo blower. It is "pulled" by vacuum through the intake nozzle to the cyclone (air/grain separator) and then is "pushed" by air pressure to its destination. Unlike augers, bucket elevators, etc. no mechanical force is used to lift or push the grain. While grain moves at high velocity through the system, it never comes into contact with any damaging moving parts. By minimizing grain damage, the VAC-U-VATOR improves your profits and reduces dust hazards.

saves time and money,

The VAC-U-VATOR speeds up many grain transferring operations. Frees you to spend your time more profitably. Saves equipment labor and maintenance costs. Reduces grain damage. From the field to the country elevator, the versatile VAC-U-VATOR can be moved and set up quickly whenever and wherever grain needs to be moved.

Utilizing old wooden graineries becomes practical. Filling or emptying bins, transferring from flat storage, or cleaning up spilled grain can be done quickly and efficiently. And, a VAC-U-VATOR can save you thousands of dollars by eliminating the need for expensive legs, cross augers and sweeps. VAC-U-VATOR can make your grain operation more efficient and profitable. A.S.C.S. loans available.

makes farming chores less hazardous,

VAC-U-VATOR conveys grain pneumatically, eliminating irritating choking grain dust which gets into eyes and sinuses and can cause permanent lung damage. In addition, the VAC-U-VATOR replaces perhaps the most dangerous of all pieces of farm equipment — the auger. No more screws or gears to get caught in. No need for bin sweeps. Saving time, money and work are reasons enough to buy a VAC-U-VATOR. Saving your lungs and limbs is another very important bonus.

minimizes grain damage, moves grain fast, easy, safe, gentle
