

Search begins for Chester dairy princess

COCHRANVILLE — All single young women who are between the ages of 16 and 22 and from a dairy farm background are eligible to compete for the title of 1982 Chester County Dairy Princess. The contest will be held May 29 at the Exton Mall.

Contestants must be the daughter of a dairy farmer in Chester County or own at least one dairy animal herself. She must have completed her junior year in high school and will not turn 22 before December 31.

The Dairy Princess will be selected from a panel of three judges. The judges make their decisions based on appearances, speaking ability, poise, personality, and intelligence. This year's princess will also have the added distinction of being crowned by the reigning Pennsylvania

Dairy Princess, Charlene Rohrer.

Twenty-five princesses and hundreds of county princess have served as spokespersons for the dairy industry in Pennsylvania. They appear in shopping malls, fairs, supermarkets, schools, and on radio and television to educate consumers about the dairy farmer's product.

The winner of the Chester

County contest will compete in the State Dairy Princess Pageant held in Harrisburg in September. The state title is honorary and there would be no interruption of school or regular employment plans.

Young women interested in entering this year's pageant should contact Yvonne King at (215) 593-6440 or Charlene Rohrer at (717) 529-2803 before April 30.

ALLIS-CHALMERS 8000 SERIES TRACTORS...

Innovative ideas add up to unequalled performance.

More power, dependability, comfort and control — the most wanted tractor features all wrapped up in four big performance packages. The new 8070 (170 PTO hp*), 8050 (152 PTO hp*), 8030 (132 PTO hp*), and 8010 (106 PTO hp*). They boast proven, powerful engines at new horsepower and RPM ratings for longer, more dependable life. And a new fuel injection system in the 8070, 8050, and 8030 delivers even greater performance.

All four models are available with Allis-Chalmers exclusive no-clutch, no-stop Power Shift transmission. The 8000 Series cab is one of the largest and most comfortable around, with easy-to-reach, easy-to-operate controls. Plus, mechanical front-wheel-drive in the 8050, 8030 and 8010 gives you more driving power on command.

*Manufacturer's estimated maximum observed PTO horsepower at rated engine speed.
