

Montgomery Co. 4-H'ers win at Horse Production Breed

NORRISTOWN — Cindy Sharpe of Schwenksville and Karen Fitzgerald of Harleysville were named triple winners at the recent Eastern Pennsylvania 4-H Horse Production Breed Show held at the Montgomery County 4-H Center in Lansdale.

Competing with 4-H members from a ten-county area, Cindy and Karen each had three horses selected to compete at the State 4-H Horse Show October 1-3 to be held in the Farm Show Building in Harrisburg.

Cindy will show her Arabian broodmare "Southern Belle," her half-Arab, two-year-old filly "Immortal Syn," and an Arabian filly of this year, while Karen will exhibit her hunter-type broodmare "Almost Heaven" and "Heaven's Genesis" in the English Futurity class. Karen's Thoroughbred filly "Stairway To Heaven" was also awarded a blue merit award.

Nearly 80 animals were entered in the show. The production project was open to 4-H'ers who raise and care for a broodmare, weanling, yearling or two-year-old horse. Ownership is not mandatory as projects can be leased providing the member does the majority of the care and training of the animal.

Other Montgomery County 4-H'ers who had animals selected to go to states include: John Holmes of Barto with a Welsh pony colt of this year; Richard Roth of Collegeville with his stock horse filly "Hanasse's Brick Bar;" Tami Hood of Schwenksville with her Paint filly of this year, "Cody Teal Halmark;" and Jody Solomon of Harleysville with "Peek Abou" a half-Arab colt.

Receiving a special master showman award was Karen Donahue of Spring Mount showing "Katy Manu" in the Quarter Horse two-year-old filly class.

Other area participants in the area show were Holly Reube of Lansdale, Chris Thompson of Blue Bell, Dawn Wardick of Harleysville and Rebecca Roth, Collegeville.

Jim Roth of Collegeville and "Pala Bob" were awarded first place in the Western Pleasure Horse Class at the annual Montgomery County 4-H Horse Show held in Lansdale. Jim was one of many Montgomery County 4-H'ers who competed in the recent Southeast Pennsylvania 4-H Horse Show in Wrightstown.

Channel Islands regain foot-and-mouth

disease-free status

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Channel Islands, located in the English Channel off the coast of France and governed by Great Britain, are again eligible to ship ruminants, swine and the meats of those animals to the United States, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture official.

John K. Atwell, deputy administrator of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said USDA again lists the Channel Islands as free of foot-and-mouth disease.

"When foot-and-mouth disease occurred on the Isle of Jersey in March 1981, we had to prohibit imports of any susceptible animals or their fresh, chilled or frozen meats," Atwell said. "However, we're satisfied that animal health officials of the Channel Islands have eradicated the disease."

Atwell said USDA regulations will continue to impose certain restrictions on imports of fresh, chilled or frozen meats from the Channel Islands and Great Britain, since their domestic meat supply is supplemented by imports from other countries where foot-and-mouth disease is known to exist.

Animal health officials would have to certify that shipments to the United States come only from USDA-approved plants that produce meats solely from Great Britain or the Channel Islands.
