YORK — Dairy judging got underway at the York Fair with the 4-H classes leading off in the first round of two days of cattle exhibiting. Colored breeds paraded before official John Morris of Maryland, while Chester County Guernsey breeder Don Brown placed the Holstein classes.

All the York Fair Jersey 4-H breed honors went to Sue Eisenhart, with her Junior and Grand Champion intermediate heifer. Dairy princess Nancy Eisenhart had the pleasure of awarding the rosettes to her younger sister.

Two familiar faces in York Guernsey competition headed the winners line during 4-H dairy judging at the York Fair. Todd Rutter, left, was Senior and Grand Champion over his brother Chad, the Reserve Senior and Grand exhibitor. Awarding ribbons was York Dairy Princess Nancy Eisenhart.

Use Devrinol[®] now and hit spring weeds when they're down.

The mulch you use on strawberries this fall has weed seeds and volunteer grain. Left unchecked, they'll germinate to cause problems next spring. Once these seeds sprout they cannot be controlled by residual herbicides. But Devrinol herbicide, applied now — before you mulch — will stop weed germination in the spring. Use Devrinol preceding rain or snow and prior to ground freeze, then apply mulch. You won't have to worry about weeding, or weed competition, all the way to picking time.

Potter, Elk antlerless changes

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania Game Commission will supervise public drawings for antlerless deer licenses in both Potter and Elk counties this fall.

Potter County treasurer Richard McCaigue and Elk County treasurer John R. Kestler have both been recalled as agents. Consequently, persons requesting antlerless licenses in those counties must modify their official yellow application envelopes to reflect a change of address, and must make checks or money orders payable to the Pennsylvania Game Commission rather than the county treasurer.

Potter County applications must be mailed to: Pennsylvania Game Commission, P.O. Box 504, Coudersport, Pa. 16905. Elk County applications will be sent to: Pennsylvania Game Commission, P.O. Box 127, Ridgway, Pa. 15853.

Applications will be received by first class mail beginning Monday, Oct. 4. Those received Monday and Tuesday, and until the time of the drawings Wednesday at 1 p.m., will be eligible. The drawings, under Game Commission supervision, will be in the county courthouses.
