

Farmtronix introduces Cow Calendar system

SHERIDAN, Wyo. — Farmtronix introduces Cow Calendar, a new record keeping option available for Dairy-Tronic Computerized Feeding System for the 60-250 cow dairy.

The Cow Calendar will track each cow through her entire cycle, from freshening (or servicing) and provide printed summary records for each cow. In addition, the Cow Calendar will provide individual printed reports such as, Heat Alert List, Service/Pregnancy Confirmation List, Pregnancy Check List, Dry Off List, Steam Up List, Status Code List, Single Cow

History and entire Herd History.

Located in Sheridan, Wyoming, Farmtronix designs and manufactures electronic computerized feeding systems and a complete list of components, feeders and hoppers for free stall, free-standing and stanchion feed setups, including dual-ration feed stations and multiple feed hoppers, engineered for efficiency and accuracy in ration handling. Farmtronix is a joint venture between Electro Dynamics, Inc., a Wyoming Corporation, and Chek-Tech, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Ralston Purina Company.

Farmtronix has a Distributor/Dealer Sales and Service Network in the continental United States and Canada. All service technicians are factory trained. All Farmtronix products feature add/on capability for future products.

All Farmtronix components, hoppers and feeders for their computerized feeding systems come with a comprehensive factory warranty with an extended warranty plan available.

N.Y. Cattlemen's market exchange "working"

BAINBRIDGE, N.Y. — The Market Exchange initiated June 1 by the New York Beef Cattlemen's Association to bring sellers and buyers of cattle in contact with each other is "on target" according to a three-month evaluation presented to the executive council of the New York Beef Cattlemen's Association at its quarterly meeting.

Market Exchange Coordinator Helen Patton of Bainbridge reported 40 cattlemen have listed a total of 426 available cattle with the Exchange. She said two-thirds of the counties in the state are represented as are almost all beef breeds. Listings include purebred and commercial breeding cattle, feeders, finished cattle, and animals suitable for 4-H projects.

Peter Nixon of Westfield who chaired the Market Exchange evaluation said, "The program is working."

Persons wishing to buy cattle may contact the Market Exchange at 607/967-7261 Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon and Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. Persons wishing to list cattle for sale with the Market Exchange may contact Patton during these same hours.
