Give Safe Gifts

Everyone enjoys receiving gifts. For children there are few greater joys than new toys and games. Adults also have "toys" in the form of hobby equipment and collectible items.

This holiday season make sure that you give gifts that are not only fun but safe.

Seek quality design and construction in toys and games. Also, look for safety labels such as "non-toxic" and "flame retardant" on items that you purchase.

Toys recommended for older children can be dangerous for little ones. Therefore, check and abide the age recommendations on toy labels.

In addition, here are additional safety tips from the National Safety Council:

- Don't give toys that could be swallowed or lodged in a child's windpipe.

- Seek well-made, quality products when you purchase hobby equipment. Electrical equipment should meet the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) safety standards. Chemical supplies should be stored in sturdy, labeled containers.

- Always read and follow directions on labels and in instruction manuals.

- Keep potentially hazardous hobby equipment such as tools, solvents and glue away from a child's reach.

Help make this holiday season safe and enjoyable. Enjoying toys and hobbies is a family affair.

Sew For A Designer Look

Sewing for holiday giving and festive party clothes is now in full swing. If you want your sewn speciality to have that designer look, follow these tips. Your pillows, table linens and super clothes will be the hit of the season.

- Eliminate time consuming basting by exact and perfect cutting. Then pin the top and bottom edges of the seam together and add a few more pins in between to line up the seams perfectly. Place the pins at right angle to the seam so you can remove them before stitching.

- Elegant and exotic lace inserts are a snap if you do it the way professionals do. On fabrics that don't unravel easily, topstitch bands of lace directly into the fabric and then cut away the fabric underneath the lace. You don't even have to plan ahead for seam allowances!

- To get a smooth line on curved hems, machine baste one-quarter in from the raw edge. Then use a pin and pull up the basting thread every two to three inches to distribute the fullness evenly. Place a square of cardboard underneath the raw edge of the hem to prevent press marks and then steam shrink the excess.

- Piping's all the rage and can add that extra touch that gives your sewing a designer look. When you use piping or cording in a seam, make two separate stitchings. Use the zipper foot to sew the piping onto the right side of one fabric section and then pin the second piece so that you can see and stitch over the first line of stitching.

- Always read your pattern guide sheet and pattern markings carefully and follow the steps exactly. Short cuts you dream up usually take your hours of extra time to set right.

Superior cooling, automatic washing, and free hot water are only three of the reasons you should put a Mueller HiPerForm Milk Cooler to work for you!
