

News

Turner, Konhaus get Awards

FARM SHOW — Two Pennsylvania firms received the 1983 Pennsylvania Agribusiness Achievement Award during ceremonies Monday evening at the Pennsylvania Farm Show. The awards were presented to Turner Dairy Farms of Pittsburgh and Konhaus Farms of Mechanicsburg by State Agriculture Secretary Penrose Hallowell.

In presenting the awards, Hallowell said, "The judges had a tough decision. All the nominees were deserving of this annual award."

Four other firms were nominated for the award: Barsotti Brother's Baking Company of Pittsburgh, Lehigh Valley IGA Group of Allentown, O. Leto Mushrooms of Kennett Square, and the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers, Inc., all of whom have shown outstanding support of Pennsylvania agriculture.

"Both Turner Dairy and Konhaus Farms have been outstanding leaders in the promotion of Pennsylvania foods," said Hallowell. "Family owned and operated Turner Dairy was the second dairy producer and processor to adopt the 'We're Growing Better' logo. They took the initiative to design two side carton panels for their milk — one featuring the logo and the other promoting Pennsylvania milk as the 'Official State Beverage.'" Turner distributes dairy products throughout southwestern Pennsylvania.

"The co-winner, Konhaus Farms is a poultry, vegetable and retail operation. They are family owned and operated, with four stores in the Mechanicsburg and Lemoyne areas. Konhaus has been using the logo on their grocery bags, egg cartons, ice cream containers, and newspapers and designs since March 1980. They have been an excellent supporter of Penn-

(Turn to Page D6)

Hesston adds tillage tools

HESSTON, Kan. — Six new smaller-sized Tandem Disc Harrows and three new sizes of its Tri-Till Field Finisher have been added to Hesston's line of tillage equipment for 1983.

"By expanding our line with many of the smaller sizes of tillage equipment, we will be competing in market areas we haven't been in previously," said Dexter Schaible, product manager.

"Plus, these new tillage products will better complement our complete line of tractors," he said.

The 2140 Tri-Till Field Finisher will be available in three new sizes: 12 feet, nine inches; 15 feet, nine inches; and 24 feet, nine inches. Already available sizes are 18 feet, nine inches; and 21 feet, nine inches.

The Tri-Till Field Finisher is a minimum tillage tool designed to greatly reduce the number of trips required to prepare a seedbed and incorporate herbicide or fertilizer. It's a combination disc harrow, field cultivator and finishing harrow.

This is the Hesston 2140 Tri-Till Field Finisher now available in three new sizes.

Also available are new optional rolling baskets, installed in place of the harrow, and a chemical tank carrier kit.

Hesston's new Model 2420 Tandem Disc Harrows are available in six sizes from 10 feet, six inches to 18 feet for tractors from 50 to 85 horsepower. The Hesston Model 2440 Tandem Disc is already available in widths from 17 feet five inches to 25 feet. All are designed for high performance discing, ease of handling and dependability. Optional flex-tine finishing harrow attachment is available to put a final touch on the seedbed.

IMPCO delivers tax credit

SOUTHAMPTON, — Members of Inter-State Milk Producers' Cooperative are getting the year off to a good start by receiving an investment tax credit of $117,270.

The cooperative had an unused portion of investment tax credit as of July 31, 1982, according to President Robert B. McSparran. After using the investment tax credit on its 1982 taxes Inter-State still had tax credit remaining.

According to the Internal Revenue Code, unused cooperative investment tax credits must be allocated to members in the current year. In this case, the allocation is on each member's share of Inter-State's volume of milk marketed from August 1, 1981 to July 31, 1982.

Inter-State Treasurer and Business Manager Robert M. Dever said, "the investment tax credit is an exact credit to the members' taxes. It can be subtracted directly from the taxes that each member owes the Internal Revenue Service."

The average Inter-State member will receive an investment tax credit of $36.00.

Crowds, kids & quiet at commercial exhibits

Sperry New Holland's Inno-Vator, top left, who has traveled from children's hospitals to TV soap operas, always draws a crowd. Here, he (she or it) helps sales staff explain forage harvester's metal detector. Above, three-year-old Todd Hinkle, son of John & Dottie Hinkle, Lancaster, revs up an IH garden tractor. And bottom left, Gary Sholtzberger, Elm, and Ken Miller literally "reflect" on Farm Show happenings. Leaning against mirror in Deere exhibit is Lori Brenneman, of Elizabethtown.