Farmers Union plans "milk tax" lawsuit

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania Farmers Union has retained counsel to plan litigation against USDA's Secretary John Block to stop collection of the 50 cents per hundredweight tax against dairy farmers' milk sales, according to Carl Kaufman, PFU's executive director. He said the law firm of Solter and Chopivsky, Washington, D.C., will handle any action Farmers Union may bring.

Kaufman said actual filing of the suit will wait further developments in the cases now pending against USDA. He said that South Carolina Federal Judge Matthew Perry's decision Monday granting a preliminary injunction against USDA is good news for Pennsylvania dairy farmers. However, Kaufman said this brings only temporary relief, since it is understood that USDA plans an immediate appeal.

Judge Perry's decision was based on procedural errors in USDA's regulations for collecting the 50 cent levy. USDA will start over, reissue the regulations, give the necessary opportunity for public comment, etc. and expect to start collecting the tax within a few months, if the Department loses the appeal from Judge Perry's decision.

Kaufman said that since the procedural defects can be corrected, further legal action will probably be necessary soon in order to prevent USDA from being in position in a few months to start collecting the levy. He said many experts who've looked at the law feel it is unconstitutional and vulnerable to attack on that basis.

A number of suits are pending against USDA in other states to stop the levy. These suits are founded on several kinds of complaints.

Kaufman said that while PFU does not relish the idea of incurring the substantial cost of litigation, he and the officers feel an obligation to do everything possible to help Pennsylvania dairy farmers fight off this confiscatory action.
