

Leyland Tractor now in Harrisburg

HARRISBURG — Jaguar Rover Triumph Inc. announced today that its Leyland North American Tractors Division has ceased operations. Agri-Parts Inc., formed by Roy Bassett and Al Glenn, formerly the General Manager and Financial Controller of the Division, has purchased the tractor parts inventory and will operate from the former Leyland depot in Harrisburg.

In addition to parts distribution, the new company will handle technical service and warranty matters for Leyland Tractor users in North America, and will market Leyland's remaining inventory of tractors as sales agent for Leyland.

The North American change continues Leyland's withdrawal from the tractor business, started one year ago when Leyland Vehicles Limited sold its U.K. tractor operations to Marshall & Company, Ltd.

Gehl book favors ground ear corn

WEST BEND, Wisc. — An educational brochure on the comparative benefits of high moisture ground ear corn versus high moisture whole shelled corn is now available through The Gehl Company, West Bend, WI.

The brochure contains the most up-to-date University research on this topic. Detailed tables and photographs help to present findings which indicate many nutritional advantages to harvesting high moisture corn as ground ear corn rather than whole shelled corn. More TDN per acre, extended feed value and higher fat test maintenance in dairy cows are just some of the advantages discussed. The brochure also covers the processing and storage of high moisture ground ear corn.

To obtain the brochure, "Why

More Farmers are Turning to High Moisture Ground Ear Corn," write to Carroll Merry, The Gehl Company, 143 East Water Street, West Bend, WI 53095. This brochure is part of the Gehl Good Idea Educational Series.
