

Eastern Nat'l repeats benefit barbeque

FREDERICK, Md. — The Eastern National Livestock Show, Inc. will be holding its second annual Beef, Pork, and Lamb Barbecue at the new Frederick National Guard Armory, located on Route 70, one mile east of Frederick, on Sunday, March 20.

This barbeque will feature beef, pork, lamb and several different kinds of cheese. Last year the day was enjoyed by more than 1000 people. Most of the meats and cheese for the barbeque have been donated by friends of the Eastern National in the livestock and dairy industry.

Mar Lee Embryo Transfer Center of Woodsboro, Md., owned by Dr. Lee Miller, chairman of the barbeque, will donate an embryo transfer to be auctioned during the afternoon. The purchaser must furnish the donor animal and recipients. There also will be a fun auction and games of chance to benefit the Eastern National Educational Fund.

The Eastern National is a non-profit organization, one of the few livestock shows in the country that finances itself from fund-raising functions, grants and generous donations from livestock breeders and friends.

Slated to begin at 12 noon, the event will last until 5 p.m. For entertainment a country western band, "Wishing Well" from Mt. Airy, will be playing throughout the afternoon.

Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Dr. Miller and many members and directors will be selling tickets. A limited number also will be available at the door.
