Quick Change

Variable-speed drive on 200 Series lets you change speeds fast without shifting gears

John Deere 200 Series Tractors (10, 12, 14 and 16 hp) have a 4-speed transaxle and variable-speed drive that lets you change travel speed within any gear just by moving a lever. There's no clutching or shifting. No power loss to PTO-driven attachments.

These tractors are built to be tough and comfortable. A one-piece welded steel frame and cast-iron front axle provide rigid support. Big one-inch-diameter spindles and an enclosed, lubricated steering gear mean durability.

For your comfort and peace of mind, cushioned high-back seat, color-coded controls and built-in headlights are standard. Triple-safe starting and safety interlock switch on the seat provide added protection.

The 200 Series also gives you a choice of lift systems. Seven-position mechanical lift is standard, electric and hydraulic lift is standard, electric and hydraulic lift optional.

Available attachments include: 38- or 46-inch mower, 42-inch front blade, 22- to 38-inch tiller and 38-inch snow thrower.
