Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

The Pa. Farm Museum of Landis Valley is located just a few miles from our dairy farm. Many years ago, before the state acquired the Museum, Grandfather Shreiner took me to visit George and Henry Landis. They started the collection of objects which were related to farm life before 1900. Their home was crowded with artifacts and with cats - they were everywhere. The Farm Museum has now grown to include many restored historic buildings and new exhibit facilities. Among these are farm buildings, a country store, a firehouse, pottery and print shops, plus a restored 1890 schoolhouse. Craft Days are held during the fall and they help to bring history alive for the visitor.

They also hold a series of craft classes during the year. These include many almost forgotten arts. Some classes are tinsmithing, splint basketry, fraktur, rye straw basketry, counted thread sampler design, patchwork quilting and rug braiding.

It is this last mentioned class that I enrolled in this month. There are 17 women and 1 man who spend a few hours each week under a very able teacher. Our first project was a chair pad. It is a pleasure to learn the proper way to make one - not a stitch shows anyone, and it is completely reversible. This has caused me to look more carefully at the chair pads and rugs that I've purchased at sales over the years.

My problem is finding used wool of the same weight and with pleasing colors to use together. It certainly takes time to rip apart dresses, slacks, skirts and coats. However, I'm quite pleased with the results so far. Whether or not I'll continue this work next winter remains to be seen.
