Livestock dealer gets suspended sentence

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A three-month prison sentence issued by a Federal court for David (Bucky) Edwards, of Nicholson, has been suspended provided Edwards pay a $3,000 fine, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official said today.

B.H. Jones, head of USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration, said Edwards purchases livestock throughout Pennsylvania and central and southern New York.

U.S. District Judge Richard B. Conaboy issued the sentence after finding Edwards guilty of contempt of a 1980 court order enjoining him from operating as a livestock dealer without being registered and bonded.

Livestock dealers are required under the Packers and Stockyards Act to register with USDA and to file a bond.

The P&S Act is an antitrust, trade practice and payment protection law. It is designed to assure integrity in the livestock, poultry and meat markets, and the market place.
