

Pa. Junior Brown Swiss Assn. elects officers

EAST BERLIN — Anne Daubert, R2, Pine Grove, recently was elected president of the newly formed Pennsylvania Junior Brown Swiss Association.

Also elected to serve are Jeff Kennedy, Butler, vice president; Kristine Swick, Beaver Falls, secretary-treasurer; Mike Welsh, R1, East Berlin, news reporter and Lisa Zumbro, R2, West Newton, historian.

The group conducted a fund-raising project which netted $95 in profit. They also have been actively assisting in planning activities for Brown Swiss Junior members for the National Convention to be held in Pennsylvania in November.

Kerry Boyd, R5, Ephrata is advisor for this newly formed group.

The next meeting of the group will be held on September 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Room C at the Farm Show Building during the All American Show. All interested Brown Swiss Junior members are invited to attend.

4 to attend Vt. beef course

ITHACA, NY — Four New York State men will participate in the day-long Vermont Beef Short Course next Saturday at the University of Vermont at Burlington.

William M. Greene, livestock extension associate at Cornell University, and Terrence Dockerty, meat science specialist at Cornell, will discuss "Live and Car-ness Evaluation of Beef: Are They Ready to Sell?"

George Moore of Geneva, cattle feeder, and John "Andy" Alexander, manager of Seneca Simmental Ranch at Interlaken, will speak on "How We Market Freezer Beef and Purebred Cattle." Moore is a retired agronomist with the USDA Soil Conservation Service and immediate past president of the New York Beef Cattleman's Association of which Alexander is a member.
