

If you're a feeder pig producer, you want to get top performance out of your operation.

Producing feeder pigs takes good management, and the ability to make the most of every part of your operation. You've got to use your breeding stock and buildings to their maximum potential. A big part of getting maximum output is the right nutrition program. It can make the difference in maintaining sows in good condition and producing large, healthy feeder pigs that are able to withstand the stress of being moved from your operation to another location for finishing.

You want to maximize your sows reproductive potential and produce large, healthy litters.

Pennfield has specially formulated two sow feeds that do just that. Our 642 Sow Prep is a complete feed formulated to nourish the sow during gestation. This feed provides all the energy and protein required for building large healthier litters.

We developed 648 Sow Power to provide sows with a unique blend of energy, amino acids, and other nutrients needed for optimum milk production. This results in maximum 21-day baby pig weights. Heavier pigs mean healthier pigs after weaning. This new improved feed enables the sows to finish the lactation period in good condition for the beginning of the next breeding cycle.

You want faster weight gains and optimum feed efficiency for your feeder pigs

Pennfield offers two complete feeds for this purpose. 603 Pig Power was developed specifically for successful three week weaning. Pigs weaned at three weeks need special care and nutrition to minimize the stress of going from a whole milk diet to dry feed. 603 Pig Power was developed to provide better digestibility, palatability, and nutrition. The results are excellent gains, super feed conversion, and more uniform pigs. This feed will keep weaned pigs growing when rapid gains are the most important.

616 Pork Power I is an excellent high density feed, formulated with supplementary lysine to give optimum balance of essential amino acids. It also has added fat to assure good weight gain and feed efficiency.
